Louis Smeyers

Louis Smeyers was born 1923 in Leuven.

A sculptor as well as a painter, he is captivated by the sphere surrounding the beginning of life. His primitive-style paintings mainly represent family life. Within the concept of a sculptural form both restrained and pure, indeed almost classical, he creates figures of women, young children and fetuses in Keramine, a synthetic alloy which he handpaints in polychrome. He was awarded several City of Leuven Medals and three National Government Prizes.

His work has from its beginnings 20 years ago always been on display in Embryo Art Gallery.
